A Taste of Scottish Links Comes to Treetops Resort

Renovations to the Tradition Golf Course brings Links Play to the Gaylord Golf Mecca

(GAYLORD, MICHIGAN) March, 2022 – There's something new for golf enthusiasts to enjoy at Michigan's Most Spectacular Resort – Treetops Resort. Scottish style links play is becoming a 'must play' round at Treetops this season.

The Tradition was originally designed by Rick Smith to be a walkable golf course on a piece of rolling terrain that was much less severe than the four courses previously designed at Treetops. Golf course designer and world-renowned golf instructor Smith spent time in Ireland and Scotland to gain inspiration for this build as well as his first design, the award-winning Signature course – one of Treetops most popular golf courses. Rick's goal with the Tradition was to take us back through the roots of golf, with the characteristics of a Links course but on an inland setting. The Tradition will celebrate its 25th season of play this year. Many of the trees and vegetation have grown to a point in which the course was beginning to lose the characteristics from that original vision of designer Rick Smith. Thus, this golf season, the Treetops team is thrilled to unveil the new and improved Tradition as select trees and vegetation have been removed beginning the process of restoring this course back to a modern links course as originally intended. Removing these select trees is the first step in the process of creating an experience that will allow the course to come to life with subtly rolling fairways and native grasses now allowed to whip in the prevalent wind no longer deterred by large trees. “We are excited to welcome golfers to this ‘must play’ golf course in the golf mecca of Gaylord, now steeped in golf’s history from shores abroad,” said Barry Owens, GM of Treetops Resort .

Treetops Resort features 81 championship holes, and five distinct courses designed by golf greats including Robert Trent Jones, Sr., Tom Fazio, and Rick Smith. Treetops is home to North America’s Number One Par 3 Course Threetops, a par three course that is on all golf enthusiasts must play bucket list. Golfweek, Golf Magazine and Golf & Travel, consistently ranks Threetops, the #1 Par 3 Course in North America.

With its majestic rolling hills and natural valleys overlooking the Pigeon River Valley, Treetops Resort is the name by which all other courses in Michigan and beyond are measured.
